Teen vandals trash house and torch car

by GLORIA DAVIS

Lakeland Newspapers

The vandalism in Channel Lake that has been caused by area teens for years hit an all time high last weekend when a large group of 15 and 16 year olds reportedly trashed a closed cottage and turned an old Volkswagen upside down and burned it in the driveway.

According to Vi Johantgen, owner of Vi's Yellow Bird, across the street from the victimized home at the intersection of Rte. 173 and Lotus Ave., she and other neighbors saw a large group of teens, many of them familiar faces, run from the trashed building last Friday evening. See

"There were only three people in the bar when another customer came in and asked "where are you hiding them?" said Johantgen. He was referring to drivers of over 20 cars parked in Yellow Bird's parking lot.

When they went out to look they saw teens running from the house across the way. The windows in the home were broken, the front door knocked flat onto the ground and the walls inside were gouged and the floors strewn with the home's contents.

"The car was still smouldering but it went out by itself" added Johantgen.

The Lake County Sheriff was called, but only the trashed home, with no one around, was there when they arrived almost one hour later said the witnesses.

The sheriff's department is watching the house which is reportedly owned by the 1st Bank of Wauconda.

The condition of that home, the one next to it on the corner which has been boarded up for a long time, and the burned-out restaurant around the corner on Rte. 173 (which residents claim is dangerous), have the neighbors angry.

They say they are a real eyesore and have been reported to the Lake County Zoning Board, but residents have seen little action in the last year.

According to the head of the Lake County Zoning Board, Robert Streicher, the restaurant and the corner home have both been red tagged by his department and are in different legal phases being handled by the Lake County State's Attorney's office. After due process, if nothing is done by the owners, a judge will make the decision as to what is to happen with the properties.

The house that was just trashed this weekend now also has a red tag which neighbors say "just appeared on Monday."

Streicher says this too will undergo the same legal process as the neighboring buildings.

Oil spill volunteer: 'experience of lifetime'

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

A part-time Lake County forest ranger enjoyed "the experience of a life time" working as an oil spill volunteer in Alaska.

Kenneth A. Hoffman, 25, took a week's vacation from his job as a driver for United Parcel Service in Gurnee to work in a sea otter rehabilitation center in Homer, one of the coastal communities

Kenneth A. Hoffman, Alaskan oil spill volunteer from Lake County, said all interested persons can contribute to rehabilitation efforts. In a letter to Lakeland Newspapers, Hoffman stated:

"I would like to ask the people of the lower 48 states to write, or call your senators and congresspeople and ask for adequate response to the crisis. Here are suggestions put together by the Prince William Sound Conservation Alliance (PWSCA)."

1. We would like an independent team of experts to oversee and evaluate all short and long term assessments of the environmental damage to the sound, including those undertaken and funded by Exxon.

2. We would like assurance that there is adequate funding for long term rehabilitation efforts for the Sound.

3. Alaska State Legislative Requests:
a. Alaska Dept. of Environmental Conservation (ADEC) should have immediate jurisdiction in oil spill response and cleanup.

b. ADEC should develop the contingency plan for oil spills that oil and shipping companies must implement.

c. Alyeska Oil Companies should be required to have triplicate back up materials for every piece of equipment needed for emergency.

4. Federal Legislative Requests:
a. We would like Congress to establish an Environmental Emergency Act similar to the Natural Disasters Act to help individuals, communities and states faced with environmental disasters.

b. We would like Congress to postpone any hearings on offshore oil leasing in Alaska on the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR) and Bristol Bay until a full review of the environmental record of the pipeline/tanker system has been completed and legislation is in place for better standards, monitoring and enforcement.

5. On the individual level, be aware of your use of petroleum products. Think about the impact of petroleum products on your life and in the world.

Prince William Sound needs your help.

Kenneth A. Hoffman

coping with the oil spill from the ruptured super tanker Exxon Valdez.

"It was something I had to do, I'll never forget my week in Alaska," observed Hoffman, a resident of Round Lake Beach. He and his wife, Cheryl, who is employed in Grayslake, formerly resided in Vernon Hills.

"Cheryl encouraged me to go. She supported me all the way," explained Hoffman, who is employed weekends as a ranger at Lakewood Forest Preserve, Wauconda.

Hoffman said he has enjoyed working with wildlife since he became interested in injured birds while a student at Lake Zurich High School.

Almost as soon as the news of the unbelievable damage being caused in Prince William Sound hit the headlines, Hoffman said he got the idea of putting his experience with wildlife rehabilitation to use rescuing creatures caught in the quagmire of the spreading oil slick.

Hoffman said he started making telephone calls to names he read in the paper. After the fourth contact he got in touch with a volunteer response center in Valdez and received the greenlight to join thousands of volunteers coming in from all over the nation.

"By the time I arrived in Alaska, volunteers were being replaced by paid workers hired by Exxon. I was sent to an otter center where I built cages, fed the animals, did office work, whatever had to be done."

"During my stay I shared the grief, confusion, frustration and anger being experienced by residents. The beauty of that area has been destroyed for years, not to mention the wildlife."

During Hoffman's eight-day trip ending May 7, he worked from morning to night with many of the 15,000 sea otters rescued, about 10 percent of otter population inhabiting the rocky coast of Prince William Sound. "All of the otters are in mortal danger and it will take years to determine how many have been lost," he reported.

Volunteers were replaced quickly by salaried workers. Exxon offered insurance liability reasons for replacing volunteers, Hoffman explained.

Since confusion has subsided and federal authorities have a better idea of the complexity of the problem, the clean up is going better, in Hoffman's opinion. Hoffman and Exxon has misled the public into thinking clean up efforts are going well.

"With almost two months passing, the clean up does not seem anymore completed than when first started. Even with 1,600 additional workers as well as boats and barges it will be impossible to clean all the oil from more than 300 miles of shoreline before Sept. 15," Hoffman declared.

Hoffman said a fisherman told him that the oil has changed consistency over the past month and now is scattered sheen and mouse (a heavy froth) with pockets of

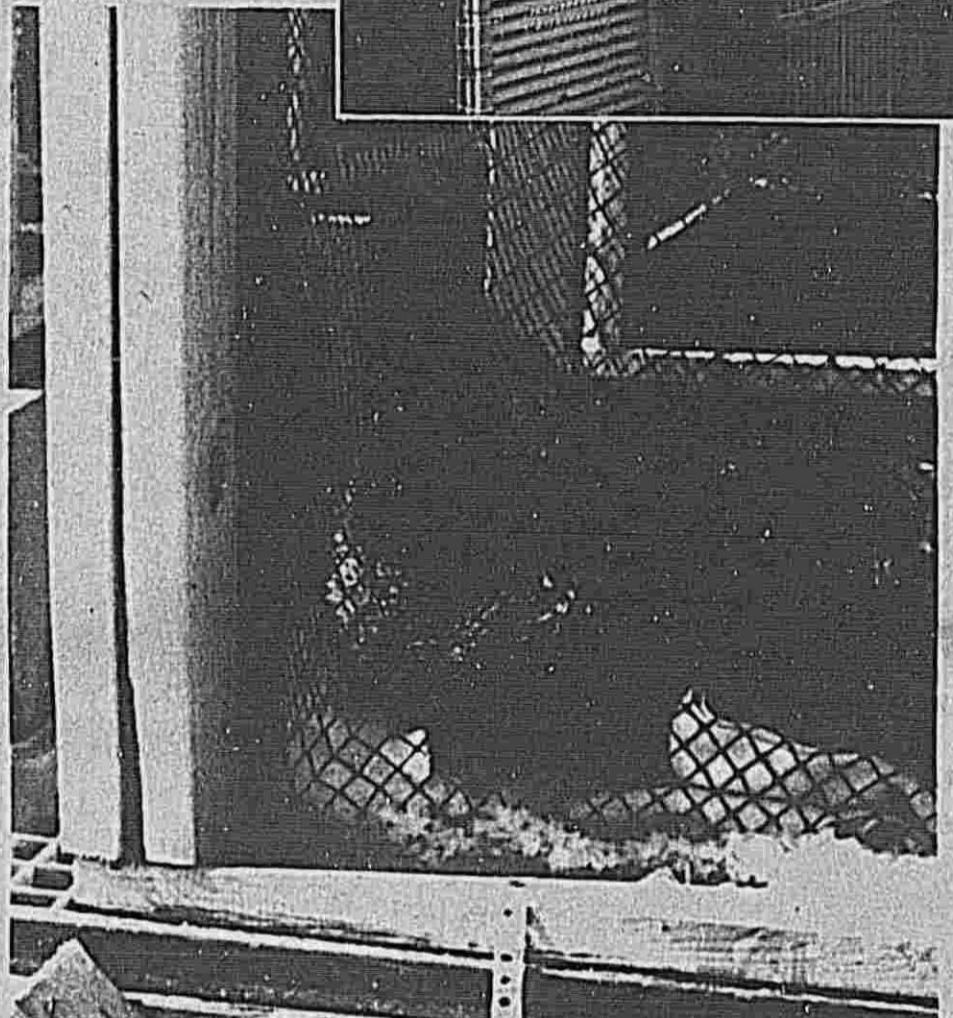

"Hershey syrup-like sludge and tarballs."

The licensed wildlife rehabilitator said he paid his own way, estimating his expenses at more than $1,100.

"I contributed. I did something I'll remember the rest of my life," the earnest young man declared.

Volunteer

Kenneth A. Hoffman, part-time Lake County Forest Preserve ranger, admires newly built sea otter cages he helped build as volunteer in oil spill area of Alaska. Hoffman, a licensed wildlife rehabilitator, paid his own expenses to spend week working on sea otter rescue. Hoffman is a resident of Round Lake Beach and is employed as a driver for United Parcel Service.

Rescued sea otters

Clean and well fed, Alaskan sea otters await transport back to natural area of Prince William Sound. Animals are among wildlife rescued in gigantic clean up project following oil spill created when super tanker ran aground. Kenneth A. Hoffman, a volunteer, provided Lakeland Newspapers, with eye witness report of disaster area.

Maximum time

The Illinois House by a 16 to 0 margin passed a change in state law requested by Lake County Board. Testimony was offered by Sheriff Clinton Grinnell, left, and State's Attorney, Fred Foreman, right, on legislation introduced by House Minority Whip Robert Churchill, R-Lake Villa, center. The bill restricts to one year the maximum time a convicted criminal can be on a work release or periodic imprisonment sentence.

Churchill bill limits work release sentences

A bill introduced by Rep. Robert Churchill, R-Lake Villa, passed the House of Representatives 16 to 0 which would limit work release or periodic imprisonment sentences to one year.

Churchill said House Bill 803, a change in the state corrections law, was requested by the Lake County Board. Sheriff Clinton Grinnell and State's Attorney Fred Foreman testified in behalf of the bill in Springfield. Lake County was a pioneer in establishing a periodic imprisonment practice.

The House minority whip said the bill was proposed to comply with the original intent of the periodic imprisonment plan which was to get individuals involved in program for only a period of six to 12 months.

Too much discretion was given to the judges to impose longer release programs, he said. There is one instance of a person sentenced to a county facility on "work release" for four years Churchill said.

"The Lake County Board feels that if an individual is in this program over a year, the original intent of the program is undermined or lost altogether."

Under this practice a person convicted of minor crimes is eligible to be out of jail for a short period of time. A sentence of periodic imprisonment may be imposed to permit the defendant to: Seek employment, work, conduct a business or other self-employed occupation including housekeeping, attend to family needs, attend an educational institution, obtain medical or psychological treatment or perform work duties at a detention institution.

Those convicted also are allowed to reside at home with or without supervision involving the use of an approved monitoring device which is intended to transmit information about the whereabouts of the individual. A criminal may also be in the periodic imprisonment program for any purpose determined by the court if not prohibited by law.

Village donates $5,000 to museum

The Village of Antioch started off the second fund-raising drive of the Lakes Region Historical Society with a check for $5,000 from the village's new tourism fund.

This check, which is to be used for operating expenses, will enable the society to devote all other funds which come in to the restoration of the upstairs of the museum, said fund raising chairman, Mel Knirsch.

Plans for the second floor include a research workroom, a school room, and a display room for vintage furniture.

Knirsch has also announced that the new program includes a benefactor category, a patron category and a second hundred-life member category for those who donate funds.

A benefactor will be any person, business or organization that contributes $5,000 or more. For this amount, a room will be named for the donor.

The first such benefactor was the Antioch Rotary Club. The downstairs display room has been dedicated to that organization.

According to Knirsch, a patron will be anyone contributing $1,000. The chairman said that he had already received one such donation.

For this amount, the patron will have his or her name placed on a special plaque in the entry way.

The first hundred life members plaque has already been completed, so it has been decided to begin another to be hung alongside it. A life member is one who contributes $100.

The year 1992 will mark the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of the Village of Antioch and also the centennial of the old school building on Main St. which has been turned into the Lakes Region Historical Museum.

The members of the historical society hope to have the restoration completed well before that time so that plans for education and research programs can then be activated.

May 26, 27 set to honor area war dead

Before he left office, former Antioch Mayor Ray Toft proclaimed Friday and Saturday, May 26, 27, American Legion Poppy Day in Antioch.

In his proclamation, Toft urged Antioch citizens to see that the memory of those who died in America's world wars were honored by purchasing and wearing a Legion Poppy on those days.

Members of the Antioch American Legion Post 748 and its auxiliary will be selling poppies on the street in Antioch on both days.

Teen curfew abuse carrying $100 fine

by GLORIA DAVIS

Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board is combating late night and early morning trouble with teens by imposing a curfew on everyone under 18 years of age.

At the last regular board meeting, a curfew ordinance was passed by the board of trustees calling for those under 18 to be off of Antioch's streets by 10 p.m. on weekdays and by midnight on weekends.

Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller said, "Our police officers will be handling the matter with discretion. Of course if there is a school function, work or other legitimate reasons for underage kids to be out after curfew, that will be taken into consideration."

The board put a lower fine on the violation of this village law than it has on other village ordinances. Curfew violation will draw fines ranging from $25 to $100.

Other village ordinances carry up to a $500 fine.

Those under 18 found out after curfew will be brought to the police station and their parents called.

Teens out with parents, legal guardians, or other adults that have been appointed to take care of them, are exempt from the curfew.

"Even if parents give the kids permission to be out on the street after curfew, if there is no legitimate reason, the law will still be enforced," said Miller.

Village eyes fill dumps

The Antioch Village Board has authorized Village Atty. Ken Clark to draw up an ordinance requiring the issue of a permit before any kind of fill can be dumped within the village limits.

Residents' complaints about the "clean fill" being dumped (without a permit) by Regal China at a location on Rte. 59 and Hillside spurred the drawing-up of the ordinance.

Meanwhile, Regal China's dumpsite on Rte. 59 has been red tagged and the village board has ordered a chemical analysis of the fill because of reports of a variance of fill type being piled there.

Dist. 24 picks new chief

By BECKY JOHNS

Lakeland Newspapers

James Blockinger will be the next superintendent at Millburn School.

Currently principal of Parkland Junior High in McHenry, Blockinger will begin his duties July 1 at a salary of $50,000 a year. His contract is expected to be approved at the next board meeting. Blockinger will replace Lee Smith, who announced earlier this year he is resigning.

"He impressed the board as being a dynamic leader, experienced in curriculum and personnel. He had the credentials we were looking for," Millburn Board of Education President Bill Ballock said.

Blockinger was selected from the final three finalists from original list.

Blockinger is no stranger to the Lake and McHenry County area. He was principal at Alden-Hebron school district before joining the Parkland staff in 1987.

Blockinger said school funding while providing for a sound educational program would be a goal at Millburn.

"I want to get to know the parents, students and staff," Blockinger said.

Blockinger, who commuted from Wildwood to McHenry, has children in the Warren Twp. High School and Woodland School Dist. 50 systems. Todd, a senior, is a baseball player at Warren. His daughter Beth will be graduating from Woodland Junior High. His youngest son, James, is a seventh grader.

In other business, the school calendar was approved for the 1989-90 school year. Aug. 28 will be the first day the students will be in school. Aug. 29 will be a half day and Aug. 30 will be 1st full day. June 13, 1990 will be the last day of school. The schedule includes five snow days built in.

In other school news, the board is considering starting a learning disability Special Education Dist. of Lake County class in the school, the board is trying for a grant.

Supt. Smith projected growth will be up next year.

Millburn is looking at a policy of land versus money grants. The policy is expected to be presented to affected communities in June.

FOOT FACTS From The FOOT DOCTOR

Dr. Griff J. Winters & Assoc.

Specializing in Reconstructive Foot & Ankle Surgery

MORTON'S NEUROMA

A pinched nerve in the front of the foot, usually between the third and fourth toes can be a torment, because the problem is deep in the foot there is usually no visible sign. There are however a number of clues that lead to a diagnosis of a neuroma.

1. Burning in the ball of the foot.
2. The feeling of walking on a stone or marble.
3. Numbness or tingling in the affected toes.
4. A sudden sharp pain in the forefoot that makes one want to remove the shoe and rub the foot.
5. Inability to be comfortable in most any shoe.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Softball squad hopeful as regionals commence

Antioch High School's girls softball team finished the regular season with a bang by beating North Chicago twice.

The Sequoits improved their NSC mark to 8-10 with 23-1 and 19-2 victories. Antioch was 10-12 heading into the regional tournament.

"We finished strong," Antioch Coach Ken Anderson said.

The Sequoits took advantage of numerous North Chicago miscues in both games. In the second game, the Warhawks walked 20 batters.

Debbie Wertz picked up her second win of the season Thursday, striking out four and walking three in the five inning game.

Antioch scored 13 runs in the first inning, topping the 10-run rule early.

In the 23-1 win, Kelly Maple was the winning pitcher and allowed only two hits.

Anderson was optimistic heading into the May 25 home regional game against Waukegan West.

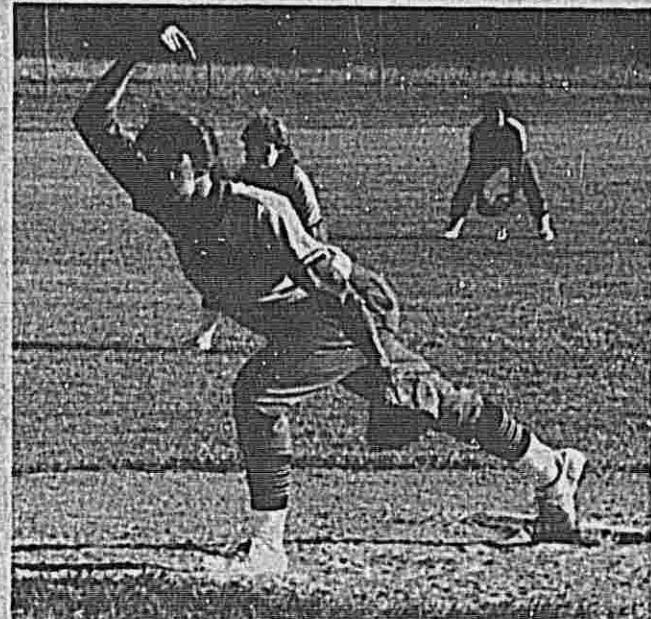

"I think we can be a factor if we play the ball we're capable of," he said.

Maple evened her record to 8-8 with the win over North Chicago. "She's been very consistent," Anderson said.

Zion-Benton and Warren were the top two seeds for the Warren regional. If the Sequoits advance past the first round, they would play in the semifinals May 27 at Viking Park in Gurnee.

"We would have to play excellent ball to beat either one of those teams," Anderson said.

Keying the Antioch offensive punch are Jenny Hagen, who has been the most consistent over the last six games; Maple, Wertz, Jenny Harris and Kelly Pramshafer, Anderson stated.

Antioch team places 1st in stock marketing

An Antioch High School team captured first place in a regional stock market simulation sponsored by the Illinois Council on Economic Education this spring.

The winning team in the Northern Illinois University region was led by teacher-advisor Susan Groth. Team captain was Mike Priller, a junior class member. The team worked to gain a greater understanding of economics through simulated trading in the stock market.

In the NIU region, 180 teams from 23 schools participated in the game. State wide, 460 teams represented 70 schools.

Each team invested an imaginary $100,000 in major U.S. common stocks. During the 10-week period, teams received weekly portfolios along with regional and state standings reports.

At the end of the 10th week, the portfolios were evaluated to find the top four teams in each region earning the most money on their initial investments.

Priller's team completed the session with $171,641 in equity.

"All participants win," said Dr. David Dieterle, president of the Illinois Council. "The stock market game serves as an excellent teaching tool by introducing students to financial markets and how they affect, and are affected by, the world around us."

The Illinois Council, based at Northern Illinois University, works with school systems and teachers to develop materials that improve economic literacy in Illinois. The Council maintains 10 centers around the state.

Baseball squad rallies, beats Warhawks twice

Antioch's baseball team finished off the regular season with two wins, one a comeback and another a laugher over North Chicago.

Jason Bellucci was the winning pitcher in the comeback win, a 9-7 verdict Tuesday. Two days later, Antioch's bats ruled the day in a 15-4 win.

In the first game, Antioch led 5-0 through five innings and Bellucci was working on a no hitter when the Warhawks rallied. They took a 6-5 lead in the sixth inning only to see Antioch bounce back in the sixth on a Mike Bablo home run.

Jon DeBernardis and Matt Kruczak had key hits in the seventh inning when Antioch scored three runs.

North Chicago's Jerry Johnson and Marvin Coleman had pounded home runs in the contest.

The victories gave Antioch a 7-11 North Suburban Conference record, 10-15-1 overall.

Antioch had started the year with seven straight losses.

"We still have the capability of playing inconsistent baseball," Antioch Coach Greg Decker said.

Decker said, though, that some of the credit for the turnaround goes to shortstop Craig Askew. "He's filled in over and above what was expected of him," Decker said.

Senior left-handed pitcher Dan Grote also won praise for his 5-2 NSC record less than 2.0 earned run average.

"We're starting to peak out," Decker said.

In the second win, DeBernardis went three-for-three with three RBIs.

Elsewhere in the NSC, Stevenson wrapped up the title with two wins over winless Mundelein. The Patriots escaped with a 10-9 win before winning 10-0.

Bats .625

The 'Lizard' thanks schools for keeping her informed

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(312)395-5380

As the 1988-89 school year is nearing completion, I would like to extend a thank you to the following schools for keeping myself and our readers informed of numerous school events. Remember the column is here, and if there are any interesting tidbits during the summer months, please share them with us. Thanks for all the new items to: ACHS, Antioch Upper

A boy and his dog
Is there anything more precious in life than a boy and his dog? Well, maybe an old woman and her raccoon. Adam Hiller is walking around proud as a peacock these days, followed by his new "schnoodle" pup, Boots. Boots is the result of a good deed done by Adam. This winter, he found two little lost dogs traveling together. He contacted the owners and now he is the proud owner of one of these relatives. I know Boots has found a good home, as Adam has wanted a dog of his own for a long time. See, Adam, it pays to be a "Good Samaritan!" Enjoy your pup.

Girls' basketball

The girls' A team basketball players at Grass Lake School just learned they tied for second place in their conference—not third as originally thought. The team will be receiving a second-place trophy to be placed in the school's trophy case. Congratulations once again to: Jenny Brausam, Cathy Chinn, Niki Garwood, Corry Hansen, Kathy Harris, Carrie Hiller, Aimee Kitto, Missy Olenick, Jessica Walczak and Joan Werhane.

Deflated tires

Yippee! I finally have a small tidbit to report about

"magnificent" Marian Roche. Marian is quite a gal. A while back, she actually got up on her roof to help her hubby, John, put on new shingles. Quite an accomplishment, if you ask me. I know you'll never catch me doing that. On the other hand, Marian informed me she is able to go bike riding at the present time because her tires need more air. When she tried to fill them, she usually ends up releasing more air instead. Now, John, remember she helped you with that roof—make sure you pump up those tires for her! Ah, Marian, that felt good. Got you at last. Now, that wasn't so bad, was it? Remember, you are supposed to be my assistant reporter.

Grass Lake School

There was a huge junior high awards dinner held at Grass Lake School. Awards were given to sixth, seventh and eighth graders in the areas of art, music, sports and high academic achievements. The list of participants is quite lengthy. This speaks well of the students and school.

Unfortunately, there isn't enough space to mention you all. Everyone receiving an award should be proud, and I'd like to congratulate all recipients. I'd like to give special mention to the following. High academic achievement awards were given to sixth grade students Beth Boerman, Josh

In the area of sports, the MVP awards were: soccer—Jeff Gembara; volleyball—Kathy Harris, Jessica Stella; girls' basketball—Jessica Walczak, Angela Burke, Jenny Santiemmo; boys' basketball—Jason Palhus, Tony Gardin; softball

Hometown Goodies

Grade and Lower Grade, W.C. Petty School, Oakland School, Emmons School, and Grass Lake School. Hope I didn't leave anyone out. Oh yes, and thanks to Camp Crayon.

Happy 50th

A very happy 50th anniversary to Roy and Adeline Trout. They will be celebrating this happy event in style and a huge family gathering at the Landmark in Antioch on June 3. Wayne and Marlene Olsen have been busy planning this gala affair right down to hiring a deejay to ensure a fun time for all. Congratulations, Roy and Adeline, on a very happy and successful 50 years together.

ALGS PTO

The PTO at Antioch Lower Grade School purchased the following items for the school. A contribution was made for each class for field trips, prizes for summer reading programs, donations to each classroom teacher to purchase items for their classes, laminating film, Lake Forest Symphony to perform at the school next year, four sets of Silver Burdette Reading Series, a microwave for the lounge, power switches for the computers, and new gym equipment. It looks like a lot of hard work raising funds really paid off.

Market Day

The Market Day program at the ALGS and Petty School will be changed to 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. In order to make it easier for working parents to support Market Day. The combined profit for both schools as of April is $7,000. The chair people of Market Day, Chris Jorgensen, Dee Luth, Jeannie Warner and Peggy Kudingo, would like to thank all the volunteers for helping to make this function so successful. Anyone interested in helping with Market Day next year at ALGS or Petty School, can contact either school at (312)395-0845 or (312)395-1440. Also, if you'd like to be placed on the mailing list on Market Day, call one of the numbers listed here.

Honor roll

The following students at Antioch Upper Grade School made the Straight A Honor Roll. Criteria for this high honor roll is no grade in any subject less

Letter to the Editor

Answer to Schmehl Editor:

Responding to the letter from Ms. Liz Schmehl not to go through the whole thing about money and education, the last assessment just raised the school tax. Now we have this additional tax, and the government is considering giving the schools more money.

I wonder how much of a salary hike the teachers will ask—maybe like 20 or 30 percent. Oh yes, Illinois intends to raise income tax percentage for school.

I would like to make a teacher's salary. For the time they spend earning it, I would have to work a full eight hours a day, 12 months a year, with seven or eight holidays—not 28 or more and two week's vacation (not clean-up week). And summers off.

But let's get to the real point. Like when I was young, wages were 15 to 20 cents per hour on a punch press. Then getting into the cabinet and carpenter's union, I was making 75 to 85 cents and only working 9 to 10 months a year—not to mention in summer when work was aplenty, plus overtime.

We had some teachers come in with union permits, and who worked summers, taking work away from others.

But I want to ask Liz Schmehl, "Could you live on $600 to $700 a month?

Five months of my social security pays my house tax and house insurance.

I bet when you look and see some of the homes and the things the seniors have, you may feel they are well off. But the things they have were bought with their sweat. There were many things they did without for their children and for the future, so that they would not become a burden. They wanted to have some of the things for their comfort paid for before retiring because they could not buy them afterward.

This year, the government imposed a surtax on the tax, about $800 per person on social security, and in Lake County assessments were raised about 15 percent.

With all the rest, I'm losing ground, but like you said, the seniors are well off.

Frank Walsh: Keep up the good work by letting your thoughts be known. We need more seniors to speak out, not only for seniors but for the future of our younger generation. So they can look forward to retirement, not just existing.

William Mayer

More for schools

Illinois taxpayers should be thankful and supportive of a Republican plan tying education funding to income tax revenues without the need for an income tax hike. Developed by the House GOP Task Force on Education Funding, the plan earmarks 63 percent of net state income taxes revenues to a new fund for both K-12 schools and higher education.

Called Priority One Plan (POP), the plan provides $191.5 million more in FY90 than Gov. Thompson has requested. This translates into $536.5 million more for education in FY90 than provided by FY89 appropriations.

Even Democrats, who have been fighting Thompson on income tax increases, admit that POP would provide long term stability and a higher level of funding. POP calls for funds being split two-thirds to K-12 schools and one-third to higher education. The new fund would receive other monies from sales tax (one-quarter of all receipts), all profits from the Illinois Lottery and the cigarette tax of $84 million in FY90.

...and politicians!

As the dust settles on House Speaker Michael J. Madigan's bombshell in support of an Illinois income tax increase for two years to produce more money for education, the politics of the surprise move are coming more into focus than the substance.

Two overriding questions need answers before Madigan's largesse can be looked upon as nothing more than a bald-faced political move: Why only two years? Why include municipalities in the windfall?

Possible explanations are tied up tightly in the subterranean maneuverings that pass for open government in the city of Chicago. With another King Richard on the throne in Chicago, the Speaker felt POP can be seen as an innovative method of increasing funds for education which have been relying on local real estate taxes more and more in recent years. During this period, Illinois' per-capita funding for K-12 declined in constant dollars from seventh in the nation to 44th. Higher education dropped from 38th nationally in 1977 to 47th overall in 1987.

POP may herald a change in thinking about educational funding that includes some kind of voucher system and greater reliance on tuition and user fees. New thoughts on providing for education are most welcome and long overdue.

If there ever was a time when the heavy burden of educational costs being carried on the backs of beleaguered taxpayers, it is now. In our rapidly growing suburban area, with land costs skyrocketing out of sight, taxpayers regularly pay more for education every year without even voting tax rate increases. Taxpayers need relief. They've earned it.

compelled to display his considerable muscle and position himself to call some shots for the mayoral election in 1991. Madigan obviously called attention to his role with the income tax roll over.

Loyal soldiers in the Illinois House Democratic ranks, not part of Windy City politicking, are putting on the best face over the chess game Madigan is playing with schools and municipalities. Even the August editors of the Chicago Tribune, most shrill in their constant harangue about Madigan's heavy-handedness, have softened noticeably since the lion's share of the income tax hike would go to Chicago. So it goes. Regardless of the aspirin for the schools, get out the raincoats. We're getting soaked good!

Hogging public jobs

Editor:

I wish to comment on your May 12 editorial, "Dual Service Declining."

The comment concerned those officials who serve, or formerly served in a "dual" capacity, carefully skirt those, who feed at the public trough in triple or quadruple fashion. Robert Neal, for example, not only was a township supervisor and county board member, but also Lake County Republican chairman and - a really fat plum - serves on the Ill. Tollway Board with a "really big" salary. In addition, he runs his own business.

And what about Sen. Geo-Karis, mayor of Zion, state senator, and city attorney for Vernon Hills? In her spare time, she also runs her own law business! Not only do the taxpayers pay over and over to enrich such people, this defeats the definition of representative government. How can it be representative when the same few people run the entire show?

Road facts distorted

Editor:

This letter is in response to the letter by Gail A. Peckler-Dziki of Lake Villa, "results not representative." Let's get our facts straight. She or the Citizens Transportation Coalition, which she spoke to, or both, do not know where Rte. 53 is destined to go. She says, "The proposed path of Rte. 53 goes right through the middle of the bog." This bog, she says, is off of Brandenburg Rd. west of Rte. 12 near Volo. According to my maps, the right of way for Rte. 53 is roughly 8.5 miles east of the bog. But she says Rte. 53 "goes right through the middle."

In the numerous meetings which I have attended and articles I have read it is quite apparent that the anti-Rte. 53 people are working on emotions rather than facts. It seems that they are trying any type of emotional propaganda to influence the residents of Lake County. This is but one more example of the anti-Rte. 53 forces not getting their facts straight. Now to address her other comment that not enough people responded to Rep. Churchill's survey, therefore it negates the 70 percent that wanted to see it go through. If she and the other anti-Rte. 53 people are so sure the majority do not want the road to go through, why haven't they put the issue on a county-wide ballot? The reason they haven't is because they know that most of the residents believe it is a better solution to build Rte. 53 than to make all our two-lane country roads into four-lane highways with "Chicken Lickin'" stores on every corner.

Games blacked out

Editor:

Chicago sports fans have much to enjoy with both the Blackhawks and Bulls involved in post season play. That is, of course, except for those who subscribe to U.S. Cable, which is the only cable system in Lake County to not offer the sports channel.

U.S. Cable General Manager Paul Ashley stated on several occasions that subscribers were contacted and indicated no interest in Sports Vision (now Sports Channel), which has been franchised throughout the country. Just which customers were contacted, Mr. Ashley? None that we could find!

Obviously, customers cannot give up their basic service. There are several alternatives open to subscribers to state their displeasure of not being able to watch Chicago teams, along with the regular signal interruptions and, at best, poor customer service. Even when these games are carried by TBS, U.S. Cable blacks them out.

Cut ability to condemn

Editor:

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis' bills to curb the prodigal spending of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. are very timely. Why should this group be able to condemn or threaten to condemn property at random?

Furthermore, they brag that they have $130 million bonding power to spend and intend to do so with our money. These bills would cut down on their ability to condemn and would force them to submit to a referendum large expenses like every other county taxing body.

Not even the school boards can raise money in this manner without referendums! Everyone should get behind them before we are spent to death.

Everyone should write or call their legislators to vote for Bill Nos. 1159, 207, 208, 209, 210 and 211.

Stopping closings

Like any good lawyer, the instinct is to sue. As the state's No. 1 lawyer, Illinois Atty. Gen. Neil Hartigan is doing what comes naturally in filing a federal lawsuit to stop base closings at Ft. Sheridan and Downstate Chanute Air Force Base.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court in Springfield, challenges the federal Base Closure and Realignment Act as unconstitutional. Hartigan says he is ready to push to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Even as far-fetched as the idea sounds, Hartigan's action just might bring the Congress to its senses. The Supreme Court is a proper forum in which to debate what is a farcical and reckless move under the guise of economy in government.

Volunteers like Ken Hoffman make U.S. tick

by BILL SCHROEDER

Volunteers turned away from the Alaskan oil spill disaster are focusing their efforts in other directions, according to Ken Hoffman, a county forest ranger who spent a week at his own expense contributing to clean up efforts.

In an article elsewhere in this week's edition, Hoffman is asking interested persons to write officials. That's a contribution, less strenuous than the young wildlife rehabilitator's, but important in his mind.

All those stories about high salaried clean-up workers being paid by Exxon are true, according to Hoffman, who bought his own plane ticket and paid for his food and lodging during an eight-day stay in the disaster area.

The handsome outdoorsman took a weeks vacation from his job as a driver for United Parcel Service to go to Valdez in the heart of the spill area. A licensed wildlife rehabilitator, Hoffman was sent downcoast to Homer to help with sea otter rescue.

Listening to Hoffman describe efforts of volunteers working with Alaska residents on the back-breaking clean-up job is heartwarming. A lot of people in our world still have values. They care. Hoffman and fellow volunteers make you proud to be an American.

Hoffman credits his interest in wildlife to Ann Conroy of Long Grove. "She's my mentor. She got me started," remarked Hoffman, who learned about Mrs. Conroy's noted Wildlife Revival program through an article in his hometown newspaper, the Lake Zurich Enterprise, while a high school student.

What motivates a man to work for nothing along side company employees being paid to $14 to $16 per hour? "I was happy to do it. I'll never forget my trip to Alaska," says Ken who feels the more than $1,100 cost was worth the experience.

Thank heaven for volunteers like Ken Hoffman.

Seeks moderation

Editor:

Now that the emotions over the Gurnee Mills project have been tempered and development is proceeding, I would like to offer a few observations regarding local custom as one who participated in the process.

The reminders from local politicians that many of us concerned about the Mills project are area newcomers did nothing but foster an us/them mentality. I would remind these same politicians, that given the influx of new arrivals, "them" will probably outnumber "us" at the next general election.

The supporters of Gurnee Mills and the supporters of Open Space have more in common than either would admit. Both factions represent the extremes in urban planning pave-it-over and green-it-over.

The general apathy of most residents was and still is appalling. There are still many people who live close to the Mills project who don't know where it is!

In summary, I hope that with the advent of the next major development "hot potato" all parties will approach the issues with balance, moderation, and involvement.

Remember No. 1 priority

Editor:

By most accounts, Illinois' support of public education is woefully inadequate. A recent study shows Illinois' per-capita funding of K-12 programs has declined in constant dollars from 7th in the nation in 1977 to 44th in 1988. Similar figures show a drop in higher education funding from 38th nationally in 1977 to 47th overall in 1987.

Illinois House Republicans have proposed a way out of the cycle of unpredictable state support and increasing property taxes. It is a plan that would take the guesswork out of school budget forecasting and provide schools the stability they deserve.

The proposal, call the "Priority One Plan," would earmark 63 percent of the net income tax receipts, one-quarter of all sales tax receipts, all lottery profits and a small portion of cigarette tax revenues for education funding. This would increase total school funding by $191.5 million over the Governor's fiscal year 1990 request. The plan does not change the way teacher retirement is funded, and leaves retirement funding intact.

There are other proposals pending in the General Assembly to provide additional funding for education, but the Priority One Plan is the only initiative that includes funding for both K-12 and higher education. In addition, it is the only plan that guarantees lottery profits would truly go to education.

The Priority One Plan would provide elementary and secondary schools in the 62nd district $1,077 million in general state aid over what they received last year. In addition, they should receive an annual increase of about 4 percent, assuming only moderate growth in the economy.

Illinois' commitment to education is on the line. House Republicans are dedicated to returning education to its priority-one status. It's time everyone in state government joined in that effort.

Robert W. Churchill
State Representative
62nd Dist.

Developing a wetland

Editor:

Regarding the storm water project that stems from Mallard Creek Shopping Center and drains directly into Round Lake: When is the current mayor of Round Lake Beach going to "wake up and smell the coffee?" Storm water run-off pollutes!

village funds for a lake study? He should know where pollution comes from seeing as how he sits on the Storm Water Management Committee.

Maybe Schrimpf should resign from this committee, seeing as how he must disagree with their work. If he did, these pollutants would not be draining into Round Lake. I have viewed those ponds and they are full of garbage. The wetland is collecting drainage from soil that once was an old junkyard with old cars, metals, oils, grease, which will eventually drain into Round Lake.

Just because there is no law to address these issues does not mean we should not do everything possible to protect our environment. It is clearly up to the Village of Round Lake Beach. This development was placed on a wetland, and in an area that has a history of drainage problems.

Controlling their bodies

Editor:

In the Declaration of Independence it says, "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights that among these are life . . ." The unborn baby is a complete, living, biological human being with a unique human genetic code. It has been proven that the baby is alive, so if it is alive, it has rights.

Ronald Regan said, "When the lives of the unborn are snuffed out, they often feel pain, pain that is long and agonizing." So not only are we killing the baby we're causing it pain and suffering. If they let them kill these babies the next step will be to let them kill old sick people or euthanasia.

Many people who are for abortion say that they don't want the government to control their bodies, they really should be talking about the baby's body. It's not the baby's fault the woman didn't control her body before she got pregnant. A total of 4,200 babies are aborted each day.

Unique opportunity

Editor:

As an open space advocate, I applaud the position of C. Richard Anderson, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., that the site of Fort Sheridan should remain open space and that one entity should govern its future.

On the other hand, I am shocked by his statement that the forest preserve district could not afford to acquire this 698-acre property. Despite the authorization of the district board for its staff to acquire numerous properties all over the county, the district has actually committed very little of its $100-million bonding authority to purchases (either negotiated or compelled under condemnation proceedings). Furthermore, owners of most of these other properties under consideration, as well as the voters in several recent township supervisor elections, have reacted very negatively to the high-handed approach of the board, as typified by members Mike Graham and Norm Geary. Land acquisitions under present board plans are likely to involve many costly and protracted litigations, which only wastes the taxpayers' money.

Yet, according to Cong. John Porter's estimate, the Fort Sheridan site may be purchased for as little as $30 million, which works out to $42,980/acre. Since this is probably cheaper than the price tag on the several large east Lake County tracts under consideration, and is in a positively spectacular location on Lake Michigan, surrounded by the highest population density in the county, it seems a unique opportunity and the prime candidate for open land preservation.

If the forest preserve district really wants to serve the county's citizens, they should quit harassing the farmers and country folk and spend the taxpayers' money on something most of us will actually use and enjoy!

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Lakeland Newspapers

Allstate Insurance Co. employees get involved. "Lots of them are in their community," said Robert Murphy, spokesman for the insurance giant.

It comes in the wake of influence-peddling and vote demands made on welfare recipients by Libertyville Twp. Sup. F.T. "Mike" Graham. He is having lots of heat put on him from all angles.

Robert Ratch

Rudy Magna Jr.

Al Jourdan

Some say it is political. It's just not their political enemies, but the influential homebuilders and those who hope to profit from continued county growth, Geary said.

"Sure, I'm next," he says. "There are lots of people out there who worked to defeat us in the April election," he said of the same fate he suffered as Graham. "Now, they want to bury us."

Gurnee attorney Rudolph "Rudy" Magna Jr. is reeling in the clients. In recent weeks he has been named village attorney for Round Lake Heights and the new municipality of Beach Park.

This is in addition to serving as legal counsel for former Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox and current Sheriff Clint Grinnell in a civil rights lawsuit involving the new Lake County jail, Warren Twp., Village of Park City where he was appointed by former Democratic Mayor Virginia Kennedy, Round Lake Sanitary Dist. and his latest appointment, Avon Twp. In the latter capacity he replaced Joseph Sikes of Grayslake, who has been on the township scene for 25-plus years.

How does he do it? It could be his famous father, Rudy Magna Sr., a one-time sewer contractor and former mayor of Round Lake for eight years. Or it could be Magna's strong Republican Party connections and being in the right place with the right people. He was an alternate delegate to the Republican National Convention last August in New Orleans. Some 22,000 voters gave him the right to make that trek.

"None of the above," Magna says about his growing law practice of 15 years. "It's being willing to work nights." Governmental clients represent 60 percent of his workload.

Another Avon connection for Magna is Charles Johnston, PR man turned politician. He will challenge Norman Geary for the County Board in Dist. 4 next year. Johnston speaks highly of Magna, saying he helped get one of his two D.U.I. charges reduced and handled his divorce. "That's what lawyers are for," Johnston said of Magna's legal expertise on his behalf.

Lake County At A Glance

Slight budget hike

FOX LAKE --The Fox Lake village budget will rise approximately four percent if proposed figures are approved by the village board. The proposed 1989-90 budget, excluding salaries, comes in at $3,336,489, up from $3,220,582 without salaries a year ago. According to village officials, salaries will probably be approved at about a five percent increase but decreases in other funding areas will keep expenditures below the five-percent increase level. During a lengthy work session earlier this week, board members hammered out budget line items and came away with decreases in four funds.

Church rebuked

WAUCONDA -- The Evangelical Free Church of Wauconda claims that Community Unit School Dist. 118 is "discriminating" against religious organizations by denying the church an opportunity to distribute day camp materials through Wauconda Grade School. For the past few months the church has been pressing the district for the right to distribute camp materials, but it doesn't appear likely the district will bend to the church's desires. "The school district is guilty of discrimination," charged Evangelical Free Church Assistant Pastor Christopher Barnes, after board members and district officials expressed negative reactions to a church proposal.

OK liquor fee

GURNEE -- Businesses which hold liquor licenses in Gurnee will be facing a new fee when they renew their licenses. The Gurnee Village Board, has adopted a fee of $250 for processing applications for the liquor licenses. Gurnee Village Admin. James Hayner explained the reason behind the fee is the village is spending more manhours researching applications.

Eye space needs

GRAYSLAKE --With all Grayslake Dist. 46 schools - Woodview, Lakeview, Avon and Grayslake Junior High School, suffering from space needs and no place to house new students, the Grayslake Dist. 46 Board of Education is taking two steps to prevent larger class sizes. One of them concerned hiring an architectural firm. Of the nine which bid for the position, four were in the final running. Supt. David Duffy, speaking for the selection committee, announced the appointment of Legat and Associates of Waukegan. "They have all the things we were looking for: reputation, references. They were just what we wanted," he said. In conjunction with this, Charles Johnston and Associates was hired as 'facilities planning and community relations consultants'.

No hospital

GAGES LAKE -- Gages Lake residents are claiming a victory for community togetherness after a bid to construct a hospital for the mentally ill was withdrawn. Psychiatric Institute of America, a Washington, D.C. based firm, had planned on building a 70-bed unit facility adjacent to Woodland Elementary School off Gages Lake Rd.

Eye party house

ANTIOCH -- The Lake County Sheriff's Dept. reports that they have no suspects in the teen gang trashing of an unoccupied house in Channel Lake and the burning of a car parked in the driveway. The sheriff's department will keep a close watch on the area which "seems to be a great place for teen parties." The corner of Rte. 173 and Lotus Ave., with a burned-out restaurant and another boarded up cottage, besides the trashed house, is of concern to neighbors who are signing a petition to have something done about what they call "dangerous property." All three buildings have been red tagged by the Lake County Zoning Dept. and are being handled by the Lake County States Attorney's office concerning legal ramifications against the property owners.

Trustee finally quits

LAKE ZURICH -- Three weeks after he was sworn into office as a trustee, Philip Light resigned last week. The contractor moved to Sarasota, Fla., where he is now in the home- and pool-building business. The village board had authorized legal action to declare a vacancy when it was determined Light was no longer a full-time resident of the village. His resignation saves hundreds of dollars and the 6-8 weeks it would have taken in court to remove Light. Mayor James Kay said he ask the village board to appoint Charles Sciwert, who ran on Kay's Reform and Environmental Party ticket in the April election. Sciwert placed seventh in an eight-way race for trustee.

owners will have the right to the final say as to which fire district will protect them. Another decision the fire district will face is whether or not to charge developers impact fees. The district says it is waiting to see how developers react to impact fees in Round Lake before implementing changes.

Still campaigning

LINDENHURST -- At Monday's regular Village board meeting, Mayor Robert Ratch accused Robert Warrender, Citizen's Action Party chairman, of continuing to campaign for the past April 4 election. Warrender wanted to know if Ratch was retracting a statement he made to the press that was printed on Sept. 9 regarding school impact fees. Warrender said Ratch previously believed impact fees should be set aside in escrow until new school buildings are built in the town which does not have its own school district. But Ratch said he believes impact fees are needed now to help run the schools because school taxes are so high.

Tot nearly drowns

MUNDELEIN -- A close call with drowning last week didn't seem to faze a 20-month old Mundelein boy. When Patrick McNulty came home from Condell Hospital about a day after his mother pulled him out of the lake near their house on Diamond Lake Rd., he wanted to go outside to see the ducks again. The hospital had told Walker that her son could react to the ordeal in two different ways. Either he would be afraid of any water (including baths), or he wouldn't remember and would be unaffected by any fears.

Centel TV sells

VERNON HILLS -- A changing of the guard in Centel Cable Television has left the Vernon Hills Board of Trustees concerned about the future of cable service in the area. According to Joe Salerno, production and advertising manager for Centel, the company decided to sell last year, and five different companies bought the franchise in five different states. Jones Intercable from Colorado won the bid to buy the franchise in Illinois. Both Centel and Jones representatives cited improvements that would be made in the service.

American Boat Charters is beginning a new tour service on the Chain O' Lakes, operating from the Pier Club in Fox Lake. Their new boat, a 28-foot sport cruiser named 'Discovery', arrived last week at Ben Watts Marina and will be ready for operations Memorial Day. "This is a new venture for us," said Capt. and owner Jim Miller. "We are boating enthusiasts and built our home in Fox Lake in 1980. We love the area, but only recently became aware of its fascinating history while researching material for our tours." Miller will be offering a variety of unique, low-cost services aboard the fast, sporty boat, 'Discovery'. For information and reservations, phone (312) 587-2273. Free introductory boat rides are being offered throughout this weekend, subject to availability.

Wauconda

Satellite Communication Systems (SCS) in Wauconda has been chosen to uplink and downlink the 'Workshop on Coal Fusion Phenomena' to begin Tuesday, May 30 in Los Alamos, N.M. SCS will be downlinking the workshop to businesses, schools and universities across the country for what may turn out to be the greatest discovery since nuclear power, according to SCS owners Robert and Kate Tomeczak. Downlinking requests have come from General Electric, Univ. of Chicago, Purdue Univ. and Texas Tech., to name a few. Scientists from all across the world are scheduled to speak on coal fusion during the three day workshop.

The Center for Economic Development at the College of Lake County assists businesses in start-ups and in training at no cost, 85 percent of the time. According to Glenn Morgan, associate dean of economic development who spoke to the Lindenhurst Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, the development center collects data from more than 50 sources and uses the information to assist businesses with their marketing strategies. The Center for Economic Development will also help businesses needing to train six employees or more in obtaining grants to cover training costs. Morgan would like more business owners to take advantage of these free services offered at the school's Grayslake Campus.

Sass' investment is 'working out'

by KIM BOLTON

LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Sandy Sass was in the right place at the right time when she decided to purchase a Women's Workout World franchise.

Sass, the owner of two Women's Workout World clubs, was a member of the Highland Park club in 1985 and enjoyed the atmosphere so much, decided she'd like to purchase her own.

At the time, the owner of Women's Workout World, Audrey Sedita, had made the decision to begin franchising. Sass became the second woman to purchase a Women's Workout World and now the company is expanding across the country.

Residents of Lindenhurst, Sass and the youngest of her three daughters, Colleen, run the Mundelein and their newly-opened Crystal Lake clubs with the assistance of approximately 40 employees. Sass' husband, Richard, an executive vice-president for National Wax in Skokie, helps his family out in his spare time by doing budgets and filling in where he's needed.

"He listens to me moan, groan, complain and he loads the pop machine," Sass jokes adding that her husband wishes he could work there all day.

Sass says her club is for women only and that women become protective of their territory. She said some members complain about seeing her husband there occasionally. Women's Workout Worlds operate under the philosophy that women who are working out do not need to feel ashamed of their bodies. They also do not necessarily wear fancy outfits and worry about their hair and make-up.

"You ought to see the way women come in here. It's scary. They're here to exercise and enjoy themselves," she said.

Women's Workout Worlds are affordable for everyone. The yearly membership fee is $89. A two-year membership is $149. College students can join for the summer for $49.

But, Women's Workout Worlds certainly are not lacking. Sass's clubs each offer 100 exercise programs a week that include general workouts, aerobics, lower body conditioning, and overall toning. Her clubs are equipped with weight-resistant, Eagle Cybex equipment which is very supportive of the lower back and very adjustable. Physical therapy patients often join because it is cheaper than using this recommended equipment at a medical facility.

Sass also offers treadmills, Schwinn stationary bikes, a sauna, and the Life Program. Use of the Life machines costs customers a nominal extra fee. Manicures, tanning and Gilda Marx exercise wear are available for purchase.

Sass is proud to be able to give personal attention to each of her members. She says women, for the most part, are not sure of what type of exercise they should be getting. She has all of the instructors make sure exercises are done properly and machines are used correctly.

"We want to be sure they're getting what they're here for," Sass said.

Colleen Sass went to college to major in nutrition. She has all the members fill out a food sheet to be sure they are eating healthy, as do all Women's Workout Worlds. In fact, Sedita said good nutrition is a part of the Women's Worlds goals. She said dieting is not recommended, just good exercise and healthy meals.

Sass has worked in diverse fields but says she is happiest working in her clubs. She has worked as a reporter, a police dispatcher and as the superintendent of a Montessori school. But, she says, she couldn't have gone into business without Richard who not only does the budgeting, but wrote her business plan and helps her with people management.

"I'm very glad I did this two and a half years ago. Given the choice of 'what would you want to do for the rest of your life?'; I can't think of anything else I'd rather do," Sass said.

Gurnee revamps policy for liquor license

Businesses which hold liquor licenses in Gurnee will be facing a new fee when they renew their licenses.

The Gurnee Village Board has adopted a fee of $250 for processing applications for the liquor licenses.

Gurnee Village Admin. James Hayner explained the reason behind the fee is the village is spending more manhours researching applications.

Spread through various classifications, the village presently has 25 liquor licenses.

"We are doing a more thorough job of researching applications," Hayner said.

"The board is interested in nice restaurants," Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton said.

Welton pointed out only the village board may create a license.

Hayner said the present liquor license cost is from $700 to $1,250. He said other Lake County communities impose such a fee.

The fee will be placed into law when an amendment to the liquor license ordinance takes effect.

Another requirement changed was that owners of the liquor licenses must live in Gurnee. It will now state that the owner must live in Lake County.

Hayner said the previous provision was getting too difficult to enforce.

"Now it will be more of a user's fee," Welton said.

In other business, the board granted a three-month extension for Cambridge Homes project near HeatherRidge. The developer had been facing a June 1 deadline for all governmental approvals. Hayner said Cambridge is working toward that end, but has requested more time.

- The board approved a request for an outdoor cafe to be located at Diplomat North restaurant. The restaurant is located in front of the Days Inn at Dilley Rd. and Rte. 132.

Hayner said technically the law requires 324 spaces and there are 303. However, he pointed out there is some leeway since the hotel guests may be using the restaurant.

Trustee James Yost asked owner Sam Marcos if there is additional parking facilities. Marcos said he owns land to the north of the hotel.

Art Council proposes center

Members of the golf course committee of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. were presented with a proposal by the Lake County Arts Council to establish a cultural center on 58 acres at Center St. and Rte. 45, Gages Lake, owned by the district.

The site is adjacent to Brac Loch Golf Course, operated by the district which is under consideration by the committee for construction of nine additional holes.

The committee, headed by Dist. 2 Rep. Audrey Nixon of North Chicago, heard the proposal at a meeting Monday, May 22, at Brac Loch.

The council, representing performing and arts groups county-wide, was advised to provide additional information and report back at a future meeting.

John Lynn of Mundelein represented the council at the presentation.

Strictly for Seniors

Make the most of those 'golden years'

Senior citizens make up one of the fastest growing segments of the population in the United States. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, by the year 2005, more than 67 million people—one of every five in the United States—will be 65 or older.

The prospects for their continued good health, activity, vitality and long life are vastly better than commonly portrayed. Seniors see themselves as more physically and mentally active than younger groups.

New desires, needs and lifestyles arise as most people grow older. Many choose retirement after a certain age, but many older workers prefer part-time jobs or phased retirement.

However, retirement is something many look forward to as an opportunity to pursue activities that were pushed aside due to a lack of free time.

New opportunities

Often, while in the work force, there is little time for philanthropics, although many people have good intentions of promoting human welfare. There are plenty of organizations always in desperate need of volunteers, and the rewards are far greater than strictly monetary.

Volunteers are also needed in such places as museums, libraries and day care centers, just to name a few options. There are many opportunities to remain active in the community.

Enjoy other involvements

Hobbies that have been neglected in the past can be rekindled or a new activity begun. Or, catch up on all those movies, plays or books you've been too busy for in the past.

Education is a never-ending experience in life. Enrolling in a local college or community classes can be a great learning experience. It is never too late to get a degree, learn a different language, or master an art or craft.

Share expertise

Experience is something accumulated over the years that is personal—there are no short cuts. These experiences can be shared through the teaching of others, whether they are five or 95 years old. Don't be modest about abilities to pass on your different areas of expertise and knowledge to other people.

There is an activity for everyone which will bring pleasure and, quite possibly, the rewards of giving of yourself and your time. If the placid life is not for you, there is no reason not to get involved!

Seek out the action and not expect the excitement to look for you. However, this is not an unrealistic goal for most. Making yourself available can help fill up your schedule with all sorts of activities.

Flexibility a positive factor

As lifestyles change, embrace this change of pace to do things as they suit you. The later years in life should be filled with activity and leisure time spent at your discretion.

Early retirement can reduce income

Anyone hoping to retire at an early age needs to take a long look at possible sources of retirement income, says the Illinois CPA Society. Find out exactly how an early retirement can reduce the amount of money that can be drawn from each of those sources.

Social security benefits, for example, are still based on age, when applied for, and the amount of lifetime earnings on which social security taxes were paid. Any covered worker born before 1938 can apply for social security at age 65 and receive full benefits. For those born after 1937, including the entire Baby Boom generation, the age at which one can retire with full benefits gradually increases. For example, someone born in 1957 will not be able to retire with full benefits until six months after his or her 66 birthday. For those born after 1960, the normal retirement age will be 67.

What happens to social security benefits if a person takes an early retirement? If retiring before age 62, they will receive no benefits whatsoever until the age 62. On the other hand, if someone retires between ages 62 and 65 they will receive a monthly benefit check, but the amount will be permanently reduced by as much as 20 percent.

Of course, social security should not be the sole source of retirement income. For most individuals, a comfortable retirement also requires an employer's pension plan.

The Eye Care Center of Lake County

By Barry L. Seiller, M.D.

THE EYE EXAM IS DETECTIVE WORK

When beginning an exam, time is spent asking the patient about changes in their vision, other medical problems they may have and what medications they are currently using. The pre-exam interview gives clues as to what direction to take in discovering the cause of any vision problem.

We test the patient's ability to see at a distance and then we test near vision using the standard Snellen eye chart. These tests are necessary to determine if a new eyeglass prescription is needed. Then a check of the eye fluid pressure can be done to determine the presence of glaucoma.

If glaucoma is suspected then a Visual Field test is done to determine if there is loss of peripheral vision caused by the elevated pressure.

Next "dilating drops" are placed in the eyes causing the pupil to enlarge. This allows the ophthalmologist to examine the retina in the back of the eye.

By taking into account the patient's visual complaints and by looking at the retina, a determination is made if any further testing needs to be done. If the patient complains of loss of central vision and the back of the eye shows signs of deformation the doctor will do an Amsler grid test.

If the ophthalmologist hears the patient complaining about an inability to drive at night or that everything appears hazy, then a glare/contrast sensitivity test is done to test the patient's ability to see under various lighting conditions. This helps him to diagnosis the presence of cataracts.

With the clues that these visual tests provide and the information that the patient supplies, a diagnosis can be made and the mystery can be solved.

Dr. Seiller, Director of Medical and Surgical Services at The Eye Care Center of Lake County, is an ophthalmologist who specializes in cataract and laser surgery.

Yachters busy

The Long Lake Yacht Club is getting ready for its busiest season in history with three major regattas scheduled, according to Commodore Janet Ringa, the second woman to head the club since it was formed in 1947. Entries from at least eight lakes are expected for the fastest growing C scow events in the Midwest. Long Lake will host the annual Tri-Lake Regatta July 8 and 9, a traditional event pitting Long Lake against Pistakee Lake Yacht Club in McHenry, and Powers Lake, Wisc. Yacht Club. Long Lake will be the site again for the All-Illinois Championships Sept. 9 and 10 for scow sailors in Illinois, Davenport, Iowa, and Cedar Lake, Ind.

Army 'Donut Day' June 2, 3

"Give your dollars to donuts!" That's the slogan for this year's Salvation Army "Donut Day," Friday and Saturday, June 2-3.

For the first time since it was conceived back in 1938, Donut Day will span two days, instead of the usual one. The tag day is annually conducted throughout Northern Illinois to help the Army raise needed funds.

Lt. Colonel Gary L. Herndon, commander of the Army's Metropolitan Division, says the extra day has been added in an effort to raise additional funds to help offset escalating operating costs of the 20 major programs which the organization administers throughout the Chicago metro area.

The goal for this year's Donut Day is $300,000. Collected funds will help provide human services for thousands of area residents.

Chicago Bears' defensive back Dave Duerson is the 1989 Donut Day chairman.

County housing authority chosen to test MTCS

The Lake County Housing Authority has announced that it had been selected by the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development as one of 29 housing authorities chosen to test HUD's experimental Multifamily Tenant Characteristics System (MTCS).

MTCS is HUD's computerized data system covering tenants of HUD-assisted housing. The three month pilot test will begin on June 1. National Computer Systems of Iowa City, Iowa, will conduct the test. Ray Haines, manager of the pilot test, said, "If the pilot is successful, we will go into full operations in September 1989." Gradually, over a three year period, all housing authorities in the nation will be required to join MTCS.

Alon Jeffrey, executive director of the Lake County Housing Authority, said that MTCS will produce a national data base of tenant information and enable HUD to evaluate current programs and work better with Congress to design better programs. "MTCS will also enable HUD and local housing authorities to conduct computer matching with employment and benefit programs to insure that only eligible families receive housing benefits."

"This selection to test MTCS is the third time in four years the Lake County Housing Authority has been chosen to serve as a national demonstration site," said Veta Massin, chairman of Lake County Housing Authority's Board of Commissioners. "We are very proud of our staff and the sophisticated computer system they've developed," said Massin.

The Lake County Housing Authority has also served as a demonstration site for Project Self-Sufficiency and the Housing Voucher Program.

and FOCUS ON FEATURES

Check it out!

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Video Review

Well, Dex and Alexis have gone crashing over a balcony railing to the lobby below, leaving Blake with a gunshot wound in the chest and Fallon in a caved-in tunnel with her little sister and a maniac until next fall, if and when "Dynasty" returns to network tv.

And since it's about time for all the summer reruns to start, many of us will have to depend on our good old VCRs to pick up the indoor entertainment slack this summer between public television shows and cable movies.

Some of the latest videos to hit the rental market are "Gorillas In the Mist," "Red Heat," "Eight men Out," "Bull Durham," "Sweethearts' Dance," and "The Accused."

As far as "Gorillas" and "The Accused" are concerned, anyone who missed these two on the big screen should reserve the videos. It will soon be apparent what all the Academy Award hullabaloo was about.

Sigourney Weaver does an excellent job in this wonderful travelogue about a real life person who becomes obsessive about saving a species of gorilla and dies while succeeding. The African scenery in gorgeous color is worth the rental price.

Both Jody Foster and Kelly McGillis turn in prize-winning performances in "The Accused," a well-done story about rape and repercussions.

If you've ever wondered what Maria Schriner sees in hubby Arnold Schwarzenegger besides his fantastic body, at least in "Red Heat" you'll discover that he can speak in full sentences. This one about a visiting Russian and an American cop, Jim Belucci, has its good moments, worth the video rental price but don't know if it would have merited the $6.50 first run monies.

What better time of the year to watch flicks like "Eight Men" and "Bull Durham," one an OK diamond story and the other a better than average baseball chronicle.

"Eight Men," the story of the 1929 Chicago White Sox, Black Sox Scandal, with Charlie Sheen and troupe does a good job of recreating the "Roaring 20's," makes one feel sorry for the naive "Shoeless" Joe Jackson, and all in all is a little more than an hour well spent.

On the other hand with a baseball glove on it, "Bull Durham," starring probably the fastest glowing star around, Kevin Costner, and Susan Sarandon (who seems to be in every new picture around), is an outstanding picture that's about emotions and lots and lots of life, (tempered with some well-timed humor) on and off of the baseball diamond.

This leaves us with Don Johnson, who a couple of years ago was the heartthrob extraordinaire. Now "Miami Vice" has bit the dust and he's playing second fiddle to his Academy Award winning live-in Melanie Griffith.

If any of Johnson's Hollywood future depends on "Sweethearts," he better let Melanie stick to the acting end and learn how to do housework. This one is so bad it doesn't even rate one star. It's all about the crisis of being "30 Something." It's scuzzy and boring!

If, as usual, all the new releases are out when you're in the VCR mood, those under 50 have an entire world of pre-1970 films to look forward to.

Christian rock-and-talk fest

One of the biggest Christian rock-and-talk fests, Cornerstone '89, will be held at the Lake County Fairgrounds, June 29 to July 2. Cornerstone '89 is a family reunion, a chance to camp out and grill outdoors while

Ditka, Collins, set for Lamb's banquet

Chicago Bears Coach Mike Ditka, and WGN radio personality Bob Collins will be featured guests at The Lambs' Good Shepherd Award Dinner, Friday, June 9.

employing mentally retarded adults, The Lambs outgrew its State St. location. Today, Lambs Farm occupies a 63-acre site in Libertyville and is recognized nationally for its successful residential and vocational programs.

Good Shepherd Awards will also be presented to Hollister, Inc., The Robert R. McCormick Charitable Trust, and architect R. Donald Johnson, for their continued support and humanitarianism.

Lambs Honorary Board Member Joseph Regenstein, Jr. is the dinner chairman.

Regenstein is the president, director and founding member of the Joseph and Helen Regenstein Foundation.

Proceeds from The Lambs Good Shepherd Award Dinner will be directed toward The Lambs' Endowment Fund which will ensure the future of The Lambs' men and women. Lambs Farm is located at the junction of I-94 and Rte. 176 in Libertyville. For further information, call The Lambs at (312)362-4636.

Free fishing in Illinois running June 9 - 12

by BILL RADKE

Four free fishing days in Illinois start Friday, June 9, through Monday, June 12. This long weekend allows time to sample several locations with no need for a license. It's a way to attract those who have never fished, or others who have forgotten how.

Also, these days allow non-resident anglers to sample Illinois offerings, but like everyone else, free anglers must observe state and local regulations.

Illinois will issue around 775,000 fishing licenses this year, and weekends like this attract new registrations. Fishing equipment for beginners can be kept simple—with rod, reel, line, hook, floats, weights and bait. A careful shopper can do it all for $10 to $15.

even less for pole fishing gear.

Some anglers get exceedingly demanding about their sport as evidenced by an alleged ad reading, "Wanted, a good woman who can clean and cook fish, dig worms, sew and who owns a good rate local events scheduled throughout the state during free fishing days.

Many offer prizes and instruction to the lucky anglers. A state manufacturer of tackle boxes, Plano, is a co-sponsor and will provide prizes. County forest pre-gear. New perhaps to the small fry, the pier may be an old friend to adults. I was nine the first time I fished there.

No-license fishing is supervised from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day from the south dock. Also available is a free five-gallon bucket to keep the catch or sit on. Surprises from a "treasure chest" go to all young anglers, with added special awards for the lucky ones.

Those planning a weekend away may be interested in Danville's Civil War battle reenactment in Kennekuk Cove Park. It starts both days at 2 p.m. Running June 3-4, admission is $6 per car. An adopt-a-horse program is underway in the park those same days.

To make it even more interesting for the family,

Danville's Springfest runs June 1-4, there's a Strawberry Festival in nearby Catlin, and turtles will be racing at the fairgrounds and a frog jumping competition.

It all adds up to a good old County Fair atmosphere offering family entertainment for this famous weekend. Danville is a two-hour drive, and the countryside is now dramatically attractive in its spring dress. Call (800)383-4386 for details.

Dallas-Ft. Worth, sister cities that are definitely not twins

by JIM WARNEK, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

I just returned from a week at the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport. No, my flight was not delayed that long! I was down there trying to learn how to operate this new-fangled computer we recently installed at the office.

Since I had to be there for a full week, I felt it was my duty to explore these two Texas towns and report my findings.

Though only about 35 miles apart geographically, these cities are worlds apart in cultural flavor. I think my cab driver put it best when he said, "If you're going to Fort Worth, put on your cowboy boots and hat. If you're going to Dallas, peg your pants and spike your hair!"

This may be a bit of Texas exaggeration, but he was not too far off.

My trip to Fort Worth took me to the world's largest honky tonk. A place called "Billy Bob's." Remember those mechanical bulls from the movie "Urban Cowboy?" Well, Billy Bob's goes one step further. They have real bulls inside the bar for you to ride!

Perhaps the most interesting thing about Billy Bob's is its location. You will find it in a newly restored area of Fort Worth that was once the home of the famous stockyards. The end of many a cattle drive and the site of many gun fights.

The hot spot in Dallas is an area called the "West End." Here you will find night clubs appealing to all whether your tastes are blues, jazz or rock, you will find it here.

Dallas' famous shopping mall, the "Galleria" is the place to pick up those souvenirs to take to the folks back home. There was one store I liked where nothing cost more than a dollar. My kind of place!

For a well rounded view of Texas, take a trip to the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Franks' specialties are Buffalo wings, hot dogs

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The saying, "Give me a hot dog stand in the Chicago area and I'll make a $ million" is being implemented in a different way by Carol and Jim Schultz, owners of Franks For the Memories at 645 E. Hawley St. in Mundelein.

Having been in the gift sale business for 22 years, Jim Schultz has realized his dream to bring a New York hot dog to the area that Chicago-style hot dogs call home.

The Schultz's also brought Buffalo wings with them from the Empire State. This recipe for chicken wings originated at the Anchor Bar in Buffalo over 20 years ago.

Today, the Anchor Bar sells 8,000 pounds of Buffalo wings a week and Franks sells 3,000.

Franks' burgers are called "outstanding" by customers because "there is a difference in taste" when they are made from 100 percent fresh ground beef.

The hot dogs, beef and pork in natural casings, air freighted from New York and especially made by a Polish provisor, are served charbroiled.

Frank's Buffalo wings are a favorite take-out food, popular this time of the year when graduation, confirmation parties and picnics are in abundance.

The Schultz's invite everyone to stop at their booth at the Mundelein Munch in July and try their specialties.

'Franks' for the wings

Jim Schultz, owner of Franks For the Memories, Mundelein, tells customers about his Buffalo wings, New York style hot dogs and unique French fried potatoes. Franks is open seven days a week; Monday-Thursday, 11 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 11 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and from noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Acosta wins tourney

Fred Acosta and Bob Bode were the top two seeded players to kick off this year's Coke - Lakeland Newspapers tennis series and the two lived up to their billing, reaching the championship round.

Bode got off to a strong start, winning the first set 6-3. Acosta, a Zion resident, then rallied over the next two sets to win 6-0 and 6-3 in the title match played at Viking Park in Gurnee.

Acosta will be trying to win another title when the series switches to Grayslake June 2-4 after players take Memorial Day weekend off. For details regarding the Grayslake tournament, call (312) 223-4404.

Acosta reached the finals by beating Rich Van Treese in two 6-0 sets in Saturday's semifinals. Acosta beat Arlan Edwards 6-1, 6-0 in the quarterfinals. Edwards had defeated Arthur Coburn 6-4, 6-4 in the first round.

Van Treese topped Jeff Bernars 6-0, 6-0.

In the other bracket, Bode beat Mark Campanile 6-0, 6-1 in the semifinal round. Campanile downed Kip Evans 6-2, 6-1 in the first round.

Bode topped Andy Black 6-0, 6-1 in the first round.

Giving her best

Mundelein's Kim Dahm finds herself in the middle of the pack during the early laps of the 3,200 meter run. Dahm placed fourth in the event in state finals competition at Eastern Illinois University. Donna Levy also was another medal winner, as the North Chicago senior was third in the 300 meter low hurdles. - Photo by Steve Young.

Grant's Wach, Mundelein's Sweet, show way to Charleston

The big question facing Grant's Joe Wach and Mundelein's Nathan Sweet: what could they do for an encore?

Plenty, the duo answered at the Waukegan West track and field sectional.

Both athletes will be leading the way to Charleston for the state track and field finals May 26 and 27 as multi-event participants.

Wach, a senior, was coming off a triple record setting day at the Northwest Suburban Conference meet. He qualified for the state finals in the triple jump, high jump and 300 intermediate hurdles.

"It will be difficult for him to compete in all three events downstate," Grant Coach Sam Spasovich said.

The coach added he will leave it up to Wach as to which events he will ultimately compete in at Eastern Illinois University's track.

Wach, a senior who also was a quarterback for the football team last fall, topped the qualifying mark in the triple jump with a 44.7. Desmond Hunt of Zion-Benton with a 46.9 won the event and Baird Willis of Waukegan East was second at 45.7.

In the high jump, Wach's 6-7 was second to Dave Rohr of Stevenson, who had a 6-9.

Wach's time of 39.9 beat the qualifying standard in the 300 intermediate hurdles.

Sweet, meanwhile, was pleased to qualify for the 800m and the 1,600, but a controversial finish in the 3,200 meter relay cost Sweet and three other runners a chance at a third event.

Mundelein Coach Dave Sibley believes a Waukegan West runner cut in front of Sweet while he was beginning the anchor leg.

"That should not take place. That cost us third place," Sibley said.

"He (the judge) saw it but I don't know what he saw," Sibley said.

Dan Patten, Dave Ochoa and Glenn Shoda had already completed their portions of the race and Mundelein was third behind Waukegan West, the eventual winner, and Zion-Benton, which was second.

"It meant a lot to me to qualify because this was our best team we've ever had," Sweet said.

Mundelein's time was 3:27 while

Waukegan West had a 3:25.

Sweet had a 4:31 in the 1,600, nipping Libertyville's Mike Patkosta. The two have been competing against each other since the sixth grade.

The controversial ending to the meet came on a day which began on a sour note for North Chicago hosts. A street sweeper tore up part of the fifth lane at the North Chicago track and the meet had to be moved a few miles north on Lewis Ave. to Weiss Field. Shot and discuss events were staged in Libertyville.

Waukegan West edged Zion-Benton for the team title 49-48. Stevenson was the highest area finisher with 29 points.

The Patriot contingent to the state finals will be led by pole vaulter Mike Sullivan. Sullivan won the event with a 14 foot effort.

Eric Bartlett, a senior, qualified in the 400 meter run with a 51.3 for Stevenson.

Antioch scored 22 points for fourth place. North Chicago, which qualified two relay teams, had 18.5 points. Grant and Lake Forest had 14, Mundelein 13, Warren and Waukegan East seven, Carmel six and Lake Zurich and Round Lake three points each. Waukegan was shutout.

The Sequoits will be represented in Charleston by Chris Horton in the pole vault, Mike Golebiowski in the shot put and Jeremy Richter in the discus.

"He's a very self-made kid," Antioch Coach Norm Hahn said of Horton.

Hahn credited Horton's attending a summer camp at Illinois State University as a major reason why the senior was able to match the state qualifying time.

"It is a very complicated event and they have experts at that camp," Hahn said.

Golebiowski had an effort of 50 feet in the shot put to win the event.

Richter's effort was 152 feet, 11 inches in the discus, good enough for second place behind Kyle Lind of Lake Forest.

Mark Paszek of Grayslake beat the qualifying mark in the long jump. He placed third at 21 feet, one and one-half inches.

Bob Ritter of Round Lake finished second to Libertyville's Jim Matras in the 3,200 meter run with a 10:04.9.

Chris Shamrock of Warren will be making the trip to EIU after clocking a 51 in the 400 meter dash.

Levy, Dahm post solid state final showings

Despite being disqualified in one event, North Chicago's Donna Levy was not about to let that stop her from becoming the highlight of the girls state track and field meet finals for Lake County athletes.

Levy was a split-second fast in the 100 meter dash, starting just a tad early and was disqualified. The senior, though, bounced back to finish in third place in the 300 meter low hurdles.

"She was devastated," North Chicago Coach Mike Moore said of the disqualification.

Levy ran a :44.59 in the hurdles at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston but the event unfortunately featured a record-setting performance. Christina Pirozzi of Edwardsville clocked a :43.56 and Sharon Evans of Joliet Central finished in second at :44.53, just ahead of Levy.

That performance could pay dividends for Levy, who talked to EIU Coach John Craft.

Mundelein's Kim Dahm capped off her MHS season with a fourth place finish in the 3,200 meter race. Her time was 11:21. Kaya Thomas of Rich Central won the event in 11:12.54.

As for team scores, North Chicago finished with six points and Mundelein five.

Among other area representatives in the state meet run in a downpour Friday, Grayslake's Chris Lupori set a school record in the long jump and finished in 15th place.

East St. Louis Lincoln won the team title again with 98 points while Evanston was second with 66.5.

Lake County standouts win Augustana letters

Four graduates of Lake County schools have left their mark at Augustana College athletics in the 1988-89 sports seasons.

Scott Johnson, a former athlete at Antioch, was among the 28 Vikings to be awarded a varsity "A" letter blanket, the highest honor bestowed upon the school's athletes, at the annual Blanket Awards Dinner on May 13 at the school's student union.

Johnson, a 1985 graduate of Antioch, was a member of the Vikings' golf team. He earned three letters and put together his best year as a junior in 1988 when he played in eight rounds and carried an 80.6 average which was second best on the team. Johnson placed eighth individually in the College of Illinois and Wisconsin tournament (CCIW) with a two-day score of 153.

To be eligible for a varsity "A" letter blanket at Augustana, an athlete must be out for a sport for four years and letter at least three times.

Also at the Rock Island School, Frank Bojniewicz, a former standout athlete at Warren Twp. High School, won an "A" letter blanket.

Bojniewicz, a 1985 graduate of Warren, was graduated from Augustana on May 21 and during his career was a four-year letter winner as a member of the Vikings football team and was a three-year letterwinner in wrestling.

In football, Bojniewicz was a linebacker and after serving as a backup for three years he took over a starting role as a senior and led the team in tackles. He recorded 113 total tackles (39 solo and 74 assists) and had two quarterback sacks, seven tackles for loss, two pass deflections and one interception. He served as a team captain and was voted all-conference CCIW first team.

While Bojniewicz was a member of the football team, the Vikings captured four straight CCIW championships, appeared in four consecutive NCAA Division III playoffs and won national titles in 1985 and 1986. Augustana was 45-3-1 while Bojniewicz was on the team.

Bob Hoffman, a former Carmel High School standout, was also a member of the football team and received the "A" letter blanket. Hoffman, a 1985 graduate of Carmel, was a two-year starter as a defensive end after playing fullback as a freshman. He had 57 tackles as a senior, including seven sacks and a team high 12 tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

Chris Rauch, a 1985 graduate of Grayslake Community High School, is the fourth Lake County athlete to be awarded an

"A" letter blanket at Augustana. Rauch was a member of the Augustana track and field team and earned four letters during his career. He participated in the decathlon and also was a member of the Vikings football team for three seasons.

Regional has different views for MHS, Pats

Mundelein's girls softball team will be trying to continue its momentum from the final week of the regular season in this weekend's Barrington regional.

Stevenson, meanwhile, will be trying to use the regional to start fresh.

Mundelein wrapped up another North Suburban Conference championship by beating Lake Forest 14-4, 12-2 Saturday. The wins gave MHS a 47 game winning streak in the NSC and a perfect 18-0 record for the second straight year. Mundelein was heavily favored to advance past North Chicago to the May 27 semifinal round at Barrington.

The Pats opened the regional against Northwest Suburban Conference champ Lake Zurich.

Stevenson had started the week with a 15-1 loss to Carmel and then lost two games to the NSC's top teams, Mundelein and Zion-Benton.

After winning the first game 11-1, Mundelein's Susan Musselwhite made a bid for a perfect game two days later.

Through four and one-third innings, Musselwhite struck out eight Stevenson.

That though, was before Amy Piggott came to bat in the fifth. She ruined Musselwhite's perfect game with a clean double to left. "The important thing is to get the win," Mundelein Coach Jim deRivera said.

"Musselwhite is a classy pitcher," Stevenson Coach Fredricks said.

Piggott's hit was a role reversal for the Stevenson starter. She fired a perfect game in a win over North Chicago the week before.

The loss, coupled with a sweep by Zion-Benton dropped Stevenson to 8-12 for the NSC race, 10-17-1 overall.

Ashley Struggles led the way for Mundelein. She started the game with a single and scored the first of four first-inning runs.

Pavelski earns softball letter

Michelle Pavelski, a 1987 graduate of Antioch High School, received her first-year varsity award from Aurora University softball Coach Sam Bedrosian at the Spartan Spring Sports Banquet.

Pavelski, a 5-10 sophomore, played as a reserve infielder-outfielder for the Spartans this season and posted a .300 batting average with five runs batted in.

Aurora ended the 1989 season with a 17-13 overall record and won the Northern Illinois Intercollegiate Conference with a 7-1 record. It marked the ninth time since 1978 that AU has won the NIIC title.

Pavelski, a physical education major, is a resident of Lake Villa.

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By
Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: Would you please explain to me what a cataract actually is?

ANSWER: A cataract is a clouding of the normally clear lens of the eye. This clouding, a natural aging of the lens in most cases, prevents light from passing through the lens to the back of the eye, or retina. Much like the lens of your camera focuses light on the film, the lens of your eye focuses light on the retina. If the front of your camera's lens becomes dirty or fogged, then the picture taken will be hazy or blurred.

Rams oust Antioch, then face mighty Corsairs

No doubt about it, Grayslake baseball Coach Jim Haas enjoyed his return to his familiar third base coaching position for the Grayslake Rams Tuesday.

Haas was sidelined through much of the last month with major surgery, and while he watched the games from the dugout the last two weeks, he allowed assistant coach Tom Wittum to do the decision making.

The Rams gave Haas a successful return with a 5-4 win over Antioch. The win advanced Grayslake into the quarterfinal round of the Waukegan West regional.

But just seconds after Grayslake pitcher Craig Katzenmaier had achieved the final out of the game on a fly ball to center, Grayslake fans' thoughts turned to the C word - Carmel.

Carmel, the team with Chicago cable TV appearances, the 26-game winning streak and the East Suburban Catholic Conference title all on its 1989 resume loomed for Grayslake Thursday. The upset of the year for the 10-12 Rams would put them in the semifinals in Waukegan May 27.

The Rams were the visiting team for the contest played at Grayslake but gained a 4-0 advantage before allowing Antioch to rally.

"Katzenmaier is a very streaky pitcher. He always seemed to have one or two bad innings. He seemed to coast when we had the lead," Haas said.

Katzenmaier went the distance for the Rams in picking up his fifth win of the season.

Defensively, the contest featured a double play and a play Haas pulled out of his coaching bag of tricks.

Antioch had tied the score at 4-4 when the Sequoits called for a delayed double steal. But because of Grayslake's defense, the Antioch runner at first was tagged out well before reaching the bag.

"That's a special defense we put in six years ago for Todd Parola," Haas said.

With two out, Craig Askew and Mike Pablo had singled, putting runners on first and third. But when Grayslake called for the trick defense, Pablo was a dead duck at second base and the Antioch season was all but over there.

"We did not come out to play. That's the bottom line," Antioch Coach Greg Decker said later.

Decker said the reason Grayslake stopped the delayed steal was a miscommunication.

The Sequoits finished the season with a 10-16-1 record.

"It comes down to having four errors and leaving men on second and third base three times," Decker said.

Che Kearby led the Rams on offense, with three hits, two doubles.

Grayslake jumped off to an early 2-0 lead after one. Singles by Kearby, Jim Neuman, Gary Hook, and Timm West accounted for the first run. Neuman, Hough and Mike Leubke all singled for the second run.

After Grayslake upped the lead to 4-0, Antioch mounted a rally in the third after two out.

Pablo singled, stole second and scored on an error. Jon DeBernardis reached on an error and scored on an RBI single by Jason Bellucci.

Antioch took advantage of a hits batsman, an error, a stolen base and two ground outs to score two more runs in the fifth.

After the baserunning miscue in the sixth, Grayslake won the game in the next inning. Tim Hough singled, went to second on a wild pitch, was sacrificed to third and scored on a single by Hook.

Despite the loss, Decker did point to some positives for his rookie season.

DeBernardis batted .404 and will be back next year. Grote finished with a 5-3 record and had an earned run average of .51 in the NSC and 1.43 in all games.

"It was a good learning experience for me," Decker said.

So did the Carmel contest for the Rams.

Strong hitting attacks propel Bulldogs, Warren

Home cooking and solid hitting attacks proved to be just what the regional tournament doctor ordered for Warren and Grant's baseball teams.

Warren ousted Round Lake 14-2 while Grant rallied to beat North Chicago 14-4 in first round action in the Waukegan West regional. Warren advanced to face host West while Grant traveled to Libertyville May 25.

On the line was spots in the semifinal round at Bowen Park May 27. The title game is set for May 30.

"They're a good team. I picked them to win the regional," Grant Coach Fritz Kazlauskas said.

Libertyville was seeded second behind Carmel while Warren's opponent, Waukegan West, was seeded fourth. The top four teams received byes from the first round.

Grant spotted North Chicago a 4-1 lead as the Warhawks had three home runs through five innings in Fox Lake.

But the Warhawks learned how difficult it was to get that third out as Grant scored 13 runs in the fifth inning.

It all started when Jon Appel reached on an error and Chris Pease walked.

Pett aided his own cause with an RBI single and Randy Gomez walked. Vern Christopher, Dan Mathews and sophomore Doug Scott all doubled to account for five runs as Grant took the lead.

The attack continued when Mark Miesek and Appel singled, Pease walked and Pett singled for another run. Two more runs scored on a throwing error. Mathews completed the inning with a two-run single.

Grant, which finished second in the Northwest

Suburban Conference, increased its record to 13-14, overall.

Pett, Gomez and Mathews led the 12-hit attack with a two-for-three days.

Steve Karolewicz struck out eight Round Lake batters as the Blue Devils coasted to a 14-2 win in Gurnee. He did not walk a Panther, either, as he improved his mark to 5-4.

Jim DeVries was three-for-three and had three runs batted in and scored two runs to key a 12-hit attack.

Karolewicz helped his own cause with a two-for-four day and scored one run. Craig Shelton was two-for-two with two runs scored as was Bob Schwery.

A six-run second and third inning put the Blue Devils, who were 9-9 in the NSC.

Round Lake, which started the season with a loss to Warren in Gurnee, spoiled the shutout bid when Doug Watts clubbed a two-run homer in the third inning.

Dornik gives her best

Dornik completes career with her best effort

Warren Twp. High School's Tanya Dornik capped off her track and field career the way all seniors hope their careers end.

With their best effort, Dornik fired the discus 113.5 feet at the state track and field meet at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston. The effort was even more impressive considering the fact she threw the discus in the rain.

"I think she did a real nice job," Warren Coach Julie Cadieux said.

Cadieux said Dornik was throwing near 115 feet when during warmups in the dry weather.

Dornik was a consistent point earner for the Blue Devils all season as she finished first in the shot put and the discus in all of Warren's North Suburban Conference meets.

She credited Warren coach John Davis with helping her during her four-year Warren career.

Dornik, who won the event at the Wheeling sectional, is expected to attend the College of Lake County next fall.

Overall, the Blue Devils' girls track and field program in fourth place in duals in the NSC with a 6-3 record.

and was fifth after the conference tourney, the best showings since Warren has been in the league.

Top point getter for Warren, freshman Katrina Daniels, will return in the 100 and 200 meter dashes as well as the 400 meter run and a relay.

Hurdler Shelly Bendry, the third highest point earner, will return.

Kemper finalizes plans for PGA

Kemper Lakes Golf Course officials are preparing the final touches for the Grand Slam of Golf, a Players Golf Assn. (PGA) event May 29.

Steve Lesnik of Kemper Sports Management said pros Curtis Strange, Craig Stadler and Greg Norman all are definites for the event.

The only fly in the ointment, Lesnik said, was an injury to pro Jeff Sluman.

Lesnik said some 1,000 tickets remain for the event, which will be used as a fundraiser for PGA Junior Golf Foundation.

The pros will perform a clinic for fans before taking on the course.

"It is a national phenomia," Lensik said of the increase in golf's popularity.

He said that 4,000 new courses will be needed in the next five to 10 years.

The Grand Slam of Golf event will serve as a preview to a bigger PGA event coming to Hawthorn Woods this summer, the PGA Championship Aug. 7-13.

"We hope it will be one of the greatest golf events ever held," Lesnik said.

Baseball crown gives Lake Zurich NWSC sweep

It has been one successful spring sports season at Lake Zurich.

Battling the weather conditions as well as the opposition, the Bears came away with four Northwest Suburban Conference titles.

The girls softball squad and boys tennis teams both went undefeated in winning their respective conference crowns. Boys track won the title after Round Lake and Marengo tied for first place.

Then last week the baseball team made it four-for-four when it shutout Wauconda 6-0. The win gave the Bears a 12-2 conference finish.

"Two years ago we went to the regional final against Barrington when Barrington won the state title. This and that team are probably my two best," Lake Zurich Coach Kent Stocking, who has been at the helm for five years, said.

Senior Eric Anderson picked up the win for the Bears against the Bulldogs, striking out eight batters and allowing just two walks and two hits.

"The most amazing thing about Anderson is in his wins he has faced 26, 27 or 28 batters. He didn't walk many," Stocking said.

The ace of the Lake Zurich staff was 6-1 in the NWSC with one save and 7-2 overall. He had a stingy earned run average of 1.80 for league play and 1.50 for all games.

Lake Zurich started the scoring against Wauconda as Jeff Sweet and Scott Krzeminski doubled for a 1-0 lead.

Chad Cooper, Sweet and Matt Carroll all had hits in the second inning for a 3-0 lead.

Sweet, Carroll and Krzeminski all doubled in the fourth to complete the scoring.

Carroll was Lake Zurich's leading hitter, batting .419 with one game remaining. He was three-for-three with three runs batted in against the Bulldogs. Sweet was also three-for-three and scored three runs. Anderson helped his own cause with two hits.

The Bears, who tied a school record for wins with a 16-8 mark, were facing a tough regional road this week. They were the seventh seed in the Schaumburg regional as they were moved from the friendly confines of the Dundee-Crown regional.

"This is the toughest regional in the state," Stocking said, noting all the Mid-Suburban Conference powers will be there.

Citizens' group donates 54 acres in Barrington

Lake County Forest Preserve Commissioners voted unanimously to accept a donation of 54 acres of undeveloped land adjoining the village of Barrington and Cuba Marsh.

The property, consisting of wetlands and forest areas, will be combined with the Cuba Marsh as a wildlife conservation area.

Forest Preserve Commissioner E. Bruce Hanson referred to the property as "a jewel being donated to us by the Citizens for Conservation." The parcel originally belonged to the Jewel Food Co. whose headquarters were located beside the property. At one time, the company maintained a small herd of buffalo on the property. Commissioner John Reindl said the citizens' group had been "working for 10 years to acquire the property for conservation purposes and we are most grateful for their generous contribution."

Paul Hoffman, president of Citizens for Conservation, earlier told the forest preserve board that the site contains a wide variety of plants that will enhance the conservancy aspect of adjoining Cuba Marsh.

If Heat Pumps Aren't That Efficient, Why Is The Gas Company So Worried?

It isn't as if we're trying to put the gas company out of business.

On the contrary, gas heat is very important in northern Illinois.

The problem is that gas furnaces are wasteful. Especially when winter temperatures climb above 32 degrees. And during the northern Illinois heating season, temperatures are above freezing nearly two-thirds of the time.

Fortunately, that's when a heat pump added to your furnace really shines.

When outdoor temperatures are above 32 degrees, the electric heat pump can be three times as efficient as the best furnace.

The reason is that heat pumps heat by collecting warmth from the outside air and pumping it inside. No matter how cold it gets, there's always some warmth in the air. Heat pumps just move it from one place to another.

In the summer, the heat pump reverses itself, moving warm air from the inside out.

Presto. It's a whole-house air conditioner.

Try that with a gas furnace sometime.

Still, good as a heat pump may be, when it's extremely cold outside, your furnace is a pretty effective source of heat.

That makes the most efficient system a dual fuel system. A furnace for very cold days. A heat pump for cold, warm and very warm days.

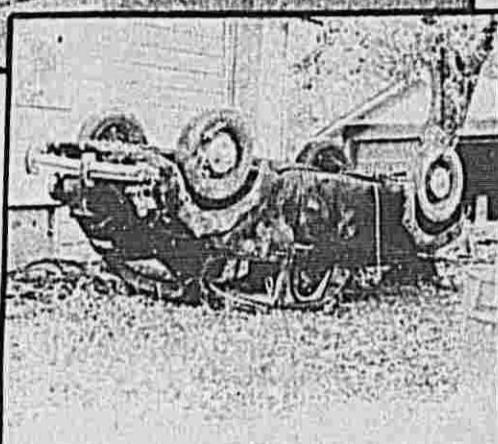

Now how can the gas company be upset about that?

Q. Why were my new glasses more expensive than my husband's?

A. Everyone's eyes are different. Some of us need more complicated prescriptions that may cost more.

Your optometrist can tell you if that is the case with you. If your vision needs require it, you will have to live with a higher basic cost for your glasses but you can often save on options.

Costs are higher for designer frames or lenses that are large; plastic and tinted lenses; or special designs such as "invisible bifocals" or light-sensitive lenses.

Some options are worth the cost in terms of both fashion and ease of seeing.

Discuss the options with your optometrist after your vision examination. It will help in selecting glasses that fall within your budget and meet your needs and wants.

Gold team exceeds fundraising goal

Century 21, Michael Warren & Co., were seen shaking their cans at various locations throughout Antioch on Saturday, May 20.

Staff volunteers substituted their gold jackets for gold aprons to collect funds for their favorite charity, Easter Seals.

Michael Warren, president, Century 21, wishes to extend his thanks to everyone who generously supported Tag Day.

Early Saturday morning, Warren treated his staff to a hearty breakfast, saying, "They'll need all the strength they can muster," to accomplish the goal of $1,500 in donations. The strategy worked; agents collected a total of $1,700 for Easter Seals.

Warren and his staff applaud the tireless efforts of local chairperson Geraldine VerHagen for coordinating the successful fund raiser.

VerHagen, along with Mabel Lou Weber, honorary chairperson, would like to remind everyone about the Main Event, which will be held at the Landmark Restaurant, Rte. 173 and Tiffany Rd. on June 11.

A Hawthorn Woods man was in the Lake County jail this week waiting for someone to post a $1 million full cash bond.

Cite 3 water firms

Three Lake County public water systems in southern Lake County have failed to take regular tests and provide monthly samples to the state. Along with not doing this, they have failed to provide this information to customers, as required by their state operating permit.

They are the Wynstone Water Company Public Water Supply near North Barrington, Rand Estates Subdivision Water Supply near Lake Zurich and Sturm Subdivision Public Water Supply located near Deer Park.

Violations extend back to January.

Such water supplies are required to notify customers within three months after failure to perform adequate monitoring. When the supplier does not do this, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency issues a warning.

Failure to monitor the bacteriological quality could allow contamination to go undetected for extended periods of time, says the IEPA.

UNDERSTANDING BUNIONS

Some people are more prone than others to develop a bunion. The condition often runs in the family.

A bunion develops when a big toe joint is misaligned and becomes swollen and tender. Most commonly the joint enlargement forces the big toe to almost overlap the next toe. Sometimes the swelling is on the top of the joint.

Bunions are treated by the podiatrist in several ways. Shoes that are wide enough at the affected area may provide relief in moderate cases. Orthotic devices may be used to cushion painful sites. In some cases, medications are applied.

Bunions can be eliminated by surgery, very often performed with a very small incision after the area is numbed with a local anesthetic. No hospitalization is required for this procedure.

compañadas local officers in making the arrest.

Seized from the home were a kilogram of cocaine, 16 varieties of marijuana and marijuana seeds, 29 guns and rifles, including an Israeli military machine gun. Seventeen of the guns were said to be exotic.

In five bank safety deposit boxes in Lake and Cook counties, including Lake Zurich and Mundelein, authorities found more than $245,000 in cash, a coin collection and gold Krugerrands. Authorities were looking for one more bank depository.

Kykta, whose home is valued at $350,000, told authorities his occupation is an unemployed restaurant consultant. He also had a 1988 Volvo and 1988 Nissan. Steps are being taken to confiscate the home and cars.

Authorities feel they have apprehended a key dealer in a major drug distribution network.

James Booras of the Lake County state's attorney's office said he hoped to have enough evidence compiled to present the Kykta case to the grand jury on May 31.

Nowadays, you're training just so you'll have the wind to blow out next year's candles.

You've come to accept that every now and then your car needs to let off steam, too.

Even though six dozen socks have disappeared in the washer, the laundry pile always stays the same. Or even grows.

You've paid so many taxes, you feel certain that you alone financed the economic recovery.

More than once, you've discovered that your house is something of a liquid asset.
